Icon draws up a list of 100 international talents

The names of a hundred talents that have left a special mark in the design world and reflected its various facets: a new project of the new issue of Icon Design, which presents a special edition called Icon Design 100, out Friday 3 March.

The Mondadori Group's upscale design and decor, edited by Michele Lupi, presents the protagonists of the design world, including established figures and surprising choices, with a selection of essential contemporary work, from architecture to visual communication, with great masters, influencers and young turks to follow in 2017.

It is an ambitious task, which Icon Design intends repeat every year, involving the identification of those who – and how – are generating ideas of value in the world of design and beyond.

The new project for the international mapping and selection of Icon Design 100 was overseen by seven jurors who are themselves leading figures in different areas of the design world: Alexandra Midal (lecturer at HEAD in Geneva and the Federal Polytechnic in Lausanne), Jan Boelen (artistic director of Z33 House for Contemporary Art in Hasselt and the Atelier LUMA in Arles, and head of the Master Department of Social Design at the Design Academy in Eindhoven), Domitilla Dardi (curator for the design of MAXXI Architecture in Rome and since 2007 lecturer at IED Rome), Greg Lynn (winner of the Golden Lion at the Venice Architecture Biennale and Chief Creative Officer of Piaggio Fast Forward), Michael Rock (Associate Professor of Design at the Harvard University Graduate School of Design), Penny Martin (the award-winning editor of the women's magazine The Gentlewoman).
